

LEAD on Climate 2021

May 11-12, 2021

As Congress considers a potential infrastructure package, U.S. businesses and investors are calling on lawmakers to:

Build back better, seeking to build a more just and resilient economy — that addresses the urgent threat of climate change

Ensure that investments in infrastructure prioritize emissions reductions, good-paying clean energy jobs, and environmental justice to secure a sustainable future.

Enact policies to mitigate climate risk and put the U.S. on a path to reach the 50-52% emissions by 2030 commitment the Biden administration has made and net-zero emissions by 2050.

Corporate Support for LEAD on Climate

In the news

In May 2020, more than 330 businesses called on lawmakers to build back a better economy by infusing resilient, long-term climate solutions into future economic recovery plans.

Companies push Congress to promote climate action. Is anyone listening?

GREENBIZ

Warning of 'green swan' risks, climate group Ceres and bipartisan supporters lay out 50-step plan for markets and regulators

MARKETWATCH

300+ Business Leaders Tell Congress: We Can Build Back Better

SUSTAINABLE BRANDS

Corporations pushing climate action return to Hill for virtual visit

ROLL CALL

Join the call for bold climate action

REGISTER NOW

WE MEAN BUSINESS
COALITION

B
Lab

NISKANEN
CENTER

SB

climatenexus

WWF

The Business Council for Sustainable Energy

THE CLIMATE GROUP

GreenBiz

OUTDOOR INDUSTRY
ASSOCIATION

U.S. GREEN BUILDING COUNCIL
USGBC

CLIMATE COLLABORATIVE

BSR

ECL
Business
Climate
Leaders

SIA
SUSTAINABLE INVESTMENT ASSOCIATION

EDF
ENVIRONMENTAL DEFENSE FUND
Finding the ways that work

IETA
CLIMATE CHALLENGES
MARKET SOLUTIONS

NSAA

AMERICAN
SUSTAINABLE
BUSINESS COUNCIL

wbcsd

HealthCare
Without Harm